

DAVID BRIGGS

Dave is the Fire Training Division Chief with the Wausau Fire Department. His duties include coordinating and conducting training, improving compliance, and creating a safer and more effective work environment.

Dave enthusiastically believes in fostering leadership and mentorship among department members regardless of rank, seniority, or position. He emphasizes motivation during education as a method to engage participation and improve retention of firefighters.

Dave and his wife Katie have two sons, Zenon (6), and Weston (4). Their time together is spent enjoying the outdoors, target shooting, kayaking, and traveling as much as possible.
